

HACCP Certification: Consultant in Sri Lanka

HACCP certification was formed with emerging necessity of food safety in the world. It is an internationally established standard for protecting food supply from chemical and microbiological hazards. The certificate had laid down general requirement to be followed for the achievement of the certification. Effective implementation of the requirements will assure human health and safety in the supply of food chain.

HACCP is applicable to all big, small, manufactures, suppliers, retailers in food chain irrespective of its location, business size, etc. which include

- Fruits & Vegetables
- Meat & Meat Products
- Dairy Products
- Fish & Fishery Products
- Spices
- Cereals
- Bakery & Confectionary
- Nuts & Nut Products
- Restaurants and cooking service providers
- Fast Food Operations etc.

HACCP endorses techniques to conform safety standard of the food products. With the achievement of certification, it is confirmed that the food product is safe which gives customers confidence about consumption of the food products. People avoid taking risk when it comes to food and health safety. Most of retailers and supermarket owner's deal with HACCP certified products and maximum amount of consumers prefer safety approved food products.

Requirements of HACCP:

- Product safety
- HACCP plan
- Hazard analysis
- Preventive actions
- Product testing
- Apply control measures
- Take corrective actions
- Consider food hygiene
- Internal audit
- Product verification

Benefits of HACCP:

- Customer satisfaction
- Consumer safety and health
- Food standard and quality enhanced to the conformity
- Benefit of international stature against other competitor with no HACCP certification.
- Identifies, manages and minimizes risks.
- Assists in long run of your business
- Stakeholder's confidence
- Encouragement of food industry
- Prevention from diseases and chemical hazards
- Reduces cost

Problems faced in HACCP certification:

- Organizations face a tough time following the guidelines laid down in HACCP certification process.
- The absence of corrective training and employee education safety measures in manufacturing process leads to failure in HACCP achievement.

- Rules and regulations for food products laid by country can be complicated to grasp by another country in absence of professional guidance.
- The absence of continuous monitoring and controlling in the organization makes them ineligible for the certification
- Too many documents generate predicament in the manufacturing process making the achievement of HACCP certification arduous for them.
- Adopting a bureaucratic and incompatible HACCP system can prove painful, redundant and build fear in employs which can degrade their motivation.
- Auditing, Training and improving quality can cost you more than you can input, which makes most of the organization to step out of the process.
- Unprofessional and incorrect offers given by Consultants that displays a very wide range of pricing. This creates confusion and hampers the Consultant selection process.

How Ascent World can help you?

- Ascent provides complete understanding and proper training to personnel that can solve HACCP certification related issues easily. Ascent provides training based on the need of the organization and not unnecessary ones.
- We eradicate the language barrier with our professional knowledge and years of experience.
- We have our HACCP certification specialist who will clearly guide you through the whole process without you facing any complications.
- Ascent World with its expert knowledge and more than 18 years of experience guides you perfectly to achieve the right HACCP
- The Ascent Solutions Architect guides you through the entire UL marking compliance and implementation till achievement of certification which will give you a sigh of relief.
- Ascent based Solutions Architects perform a detailed business profile analysis and undertake a gap analysis before the project outline is designed. No repeats, no non-useful documents are ensured.
- Ascent facilitates an in-depth and professional auditing services that are significantly more stringent than the audits done by certification bodies. This ensures no failure during external audits.

- Hiring Ascent can guide you with proper budget knowledge without you paying additional expenses.

- Ascent works 24X7, to cater the needs of its customers all over the world. This gives you ample opportunity to demand our services even in the odd hours and holidays.

- Ascent has a general practice of complete analysis before an offer is given. It is extremely improbable that the total expenditure goes beyond the budgeted figures, unless there are special requirements from the client's end. "Not a single penny extra", is a general motto that each Ascent employee abides by.

Visit at:

ISO Ascent Lanka